

GET SCREENED AND GET ON WITH LIVING

Australia is one of the world leaders in cancer screening, with our national cervical, bowel and breast cancer screening programs saving thousands of lives each year.

Finding cancer early through screening dramatically increases your chance of survival.

For example, 90% of bowel cancers are curable if caught early!

But in order for screening to work, people need to take control of their health and regularly have conversations with their GP about what screening tests are available to them.

For the first time, Cancer Council SA is joining forces with Adelaide PHN and Country SA PHN to launch a brand new cancer screening campaign, which encourages South Australians to get screened and get on with living instead of worrying about the unknown.
